

Senior Biologist / Manager – Campbell River

Pacificus is a dynamic environmental consulting company that offers professional guidance based on scientific expertise. We have registered professional biologists, biologists, technologists, and commercial divers on our team that conduct assessments, provide recommendations, and assist clients through developments.

The Senior Biologist / Manager will be an experienced Registered Professional Biologist (RPBio) who is looking to lead a high performing team based out of Campbell River. The candidate will have experience working in marine and aquatic environments and will be able to provide advice to a wide range of established clients. This position requires oversight of other professionals, performing field work where complex decisions are required, seeking project opportunities, and working to continue build the team and business in that area.

Core Duties

- Managing client relationships and providing project oversight,
- Directing and mentoring junior staff,
- Conducting biological field assessments,
- Preparing technical reports based on assessments conducted,
- Developing project approval and permitting strategies and writing the required permit applications,
- Providing overall office management.

Qualifications

- Registered and in good standing as a biological professional (RPBio) with the College of Applied Biology of B.C.,
- Minimum five years of relevant professional experience,
- Exhibit strong communication skills, both written and verbal,
- Previous biological consulting experience, especially in a management position,

What we can offer you:

- A competitive salary is offered in addition to a comprehensive benefit package,
- Continuous support for your professional development and growth.

Specifications: Please apply via e-mail to hire@pacificus.ca (Attn: Jennifer Russell). Include cover letter, resume, and references. Closing date is January 22, 2021.